

1.5.1.1 Protection of the Respiratory System respiratory protective equipment should be used for protection from harmful effects of the respiratory system. respiratory protective equipment, the air we breathe clean hazardous substances by filtering particles and the metal particles, dust, mist, fumes are the types that provide clean air to the person by filtering respiratory air (photo 1.1)

Photo 1.1 Respiratory protective examples