

2.5.1. Prevention of Air Pollution Studies

- Installing filter must be provided in the chimneys of industrial plants.
 - high calorie coal to heat the house should be used, chimneys and stove pipes should be cleaned every year.
 - The window should be given to the insulation of doors and roof.
 - It should be noted that the stove used TSE certificate.
 - Widespread use of natural gas should be encouraged.
 - Calories should be prevented with low air leakage and more polluting coal use.
-
- Periodic maintenance of heating and natural gas boilers should be made.
 - Kaloriferci participation in the course of the stoker must be provided.
 - central heating systems must be used in the new settlements.
 - Green areas should be increased, reducing air pollution measures should be implemented in the zoning plan.
 - Public transport should be expanded.