

3.1. Sewing with Straight Sewing Machine

Straight stitch machines are basic sewing machines. In these machines, the formation of stitches is caused by the up and down movement of the needle and the connection of the needle thread of the gripper to the yarn. Classic straight sewing machines have low-transpot system.