

2.1.PREPARATION OF FURNITURE FRAME

2.1.1. DESCRIPTION

Furniture frame can be described as a steady frame that is used in furniture and construction field, cutting down any space or covering any material by attaching it.

In the field of furniture frame and upholstery it is described as a draped or undraped carrier that is used for sitting and backside.

Picture 3.1: furniture frame

Furniture frame is used in the field of frame cutting and factory of door and case. The frame is made up in the out measurement of door and case's space. This frame is described as a furniture frame. The inside of the furniture frame is covered with a proper material which is relevant to the purpose. In this stage, the furniture frame which is consisted of this work is invisible but it forms the frame. It consists of part of sitting and oscillation of frame, chair, and sofa. The inside of the frame is covered with upholstery material or a kind of plywood which is opened to the frame. Furniture frames can be made fixed or moving. Fixed furniture frames are tied to seating furniture before upholstery or after upholstery.

Picture 3.2: Chair and sofa with fixed furniture frame

Moving furniture frames is removed optionally. It is seated in the frame that is consisted of front and back. It is generally used living room furniture which is straight shaped.

Picture 3.3: Chair with moving furniture frame